THE PEOPLE'S PAPER.

—THE—

HERALD.

SALT LAKE DAILY HERALD.

The remarkable success of the paper in the past, as manifested by its large and steadily growing subscription list, its increasing advertising patronage and the expressions of good will towards the journal which greet us from all quarters, convinces the publishers that they are doing what they set out to do—namely, furnish a newspaper that the people would like, and therefore support. The HERALD, as in the past, will be the people's paper. Independent in a political sense, it will always be found on the side of the people, outspoken in questions affecting the rights of the masses; battling for local self-government and the largest liberty to individuals; consistent with public good; laboring for a pure, honest and economical administration of government; treating public matters dispassionately and employing language calculated to enlighten the reason of men, rather than influence their passions, and working for peace and the development of the resources of the territory, instead of trying to create strife and retard progress. With our increased facilities for gathering news, both by telegraph and mail, the employment of a larger number of correspondents in different sections of the country, and the better arrangement of all the many details of the establishment, we confidently promise to make the SALT LAKE DAILY HERALD a better paper than ever.

SALT LAKE

SEMI-WEEKLY HERALD

This valuable and popular edition of the HERALD will continue to make its appearance twice a week during the year, and at the same degree of progress and improvement that marks the Daily will be seen in its columns. No better newspaper can be found in the west for those people who are not blessed with daily mail facilities, than the SALT LAKE DAILY HERALD. It contains all the news, domestic and foreign, in a condensed and readable form. The design has been to make it combine the distinguishing characteristics of a commercial and home journal, and we believe that it has been successfully carried out. The SEMI-WEEKLY has certainly met with unexpectedly high favor at the hands of the people.

SALT LAKE

WEEKLY HERALD.

The demand for a WEEKLY HERALD has been very pressing during the past year or three years. The aim of the publishers will be to furnish a paper for those people who live off the main lines of travel and who are not accommodated with mail service often than once a week; to provide a newspaper for those who have only one day a week of leisure to devote to the pleasant and profitable employment of reading; to supply a suitable edition of the HERALD for reading abroad—a paper that shall faithfully and honestly represent the territory, and bring before the people many and important industries and its thrifty, enterprising people; to make a paper for the home circle and family fireside, one that shall contain the news, and at the same time combine the essential elements of a literary, educational and industrial journal. In fact, our aim will be to make the WEEKLY HERALD a welcome visitor to the home, where it will be found a constant fund of instruction, entertainment and profit, to all members of the family.

Besides the leading characteristics of the Daily, the Weekly will contain matter specially for the agriculturist, the gardener, the stock-raiser, the mechanic, the kitchen and the household generally, and an important feature of its columns will be the best-chosen, entertaining and moral literature, also reports of the Tabernacle services. Nothing will be admitted to its columns that has not first been carefully prepared and revised.

THE HERALD,

Salt Lake City, Utah

caused this great gathering in the mountains. People would not have been able to come from the east, and the people who had been in the mountains had not been for the testimony they had received, and the signs that followed, and the evidence that the Lord had spoken, and the word was true. God was with his servants in reaching the people to the nations of the earth, and would be with them until his work was completed. The choir sang an anthem, and Elder Elias Morris pronounced a benediction.

AN ESSAY

On the Toothache.

BY FRED ULTRA.

A man with the toothache doesn't care about anything else; the ache monopolizes, to the exclusion of every other subject, his whole attention. The pleasures of the world fall on him like an overcast of black beer; the pleasures of creation seem as naught to the agonizing throbbings of that infernal pain. The tooth becomes a volcano of belching fury; the peaceful bliss, which the sufferer has seen in the dim vistas of the future, is hidden in a dense cloud of the howling smoke. You can't borrow a garden rake, a hoe, a crab-mill, or hush-hits from a man with the toothache. You can't restrain him in the mysteries of creation. You tell him that the world revolves through space at the rate of 1,000 miles a minute; and it doesn't startle him in the least, he simply groans. You say to him: "My friend, there's no twinkling star so far, for any that their light has not yet reached the earth." He doesn't mind it; he lays his hand upon his jaw, and whilst giving you the look of a maniac, says he doesn't care a continental if the light never reaches here. Tell him the circumference of the earth is 25,000 miles; the naked eye, says 100,000 miles in diameter, and that one of them could take in Jupiter at a single mouthful; it is nothing to him. He goes on weeping and wailing and gnashing his jaw, and sometimes a man's teeth ache so badly, the pain is so agonizing, that several strong men have to hold him down by main force, while some important scientific fact is being communicated to him. In a word, the toothache takes so pleasure in a shorting match, a base ball game, or a foot race. A free-and-easy go-as-you-please fight between a nigger and a Chinaman is a mere trifle to him. The toothache is a most interesting subject. The pain is so agonizing, that several strong men have to hold him down by main force, while some important scientific fact is being communicated to him.
